Spotlighting innovative technology, applications, and services

June 8-9, 2021 | 2:00 - 5:00 pm ET

Contractors, including thousands of 8(a) businesses, play a vital role in supporting the U.S. national security mission. Valued for their agility and innovative approaches, these small businesses are helping U.S. intelligence and national security agencies tackle some of our nation's toughest challenges.

Are you an 8(a) business looking to expand into the DoD and Intelligence Community? Are you interested in learning how you can build your bottom line and advance national security?

The INSA 8(a) National Security Showcase, taking place June 8-9, 2021, is designed to foster business partnerships between IC agencies, its prime contractors, and 8(a) businesses. This two-day virtual event offers the opportunity to market innovative national security technologies, applications, and services to procurement representatives from prime contractors and the 18 IC agencies.

How to Apply

About 8(a) Program

The 8(a) program is a small business development program that allows government agencies to set aside work just for these small businesses. This program offers a broad scope of assistance to firms that are owned and controlled at least 51% by socially and economically disadvantaged individuals. The idea is to allow these businesses to develop into viable standalone companies.
